

OUR CREW

Scott Staples

MANAGING DIRECTOR

Scott Staples is one of Seattle's top restaurateurs: owner of Restaurant Zoe, Quinn's Pub, Uneeda Burger and Feed Co Catering. Scott was raised in the restaurant industry in his hometown of Denver, CO. His father and mentor, Dixon Staples, owned and operated three popular restaurants in Colorado for 35 years.

In 1982, Staples began his culinary career working for his dad, learning the solid principles of culinary arts and successful restaurant operations. He brings his passion for food, service and excellence in experience to all his ventures.

Daniel Newell

EXECUTIVE CHEF

Daniel Newell has been with the Staples Restaurant Group since 2006 as Executive Chef of Restaurant Zoe and now heading up the catering department. He has a pedigree that includes Raincity Grill in Vancouver B.C., Union Pacific in NYC, and the Patina Group in Los Angeles.

Chef Daniel understands how to translate restaurant quality to any event. He has a strong connection with local farmers and a passion for seasonality and sustainability. Besides spending his free time with his wife and enthusiastic 2 year old, you'll find Chef Daniel enjoying the great Washington State outdoors.

Paula Snow

CATERING COORDINATOR

Paula Snow is an East Coast transplant, heading to Seattle for the temperate weather and vibrant culinary scene. Having worked as a Chef for 15 years Paula was bit by the event bug while managing an elegant country inn hosting large tented weddings. Using her knowledge as a Chef she can craft food focussed events, has a strong eye for attention to detail and a love of planning and logistics.

She is an avid bungee jumper and has completed the highest jumps in Australia, New Zealand, North America and finally the highest jump in the world off the Verzasca Dam in Switzerland.
